

Banteay Srey, Kbal Spean, Banteay Samre and Bakong

This tour takes us out into the country to experience some splendid outer Angkor sites, generally avoiding crowds

We drive first to the 10th Banteay Srey; a small and unique temple with the finest carvings of all of the Angkor Temples. It was restored in 2005 and delights those who see it at any time. It is at its best seen in the mornings.

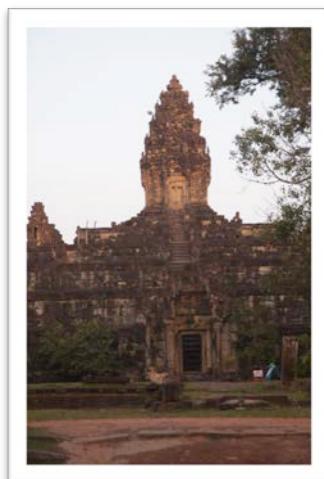

Kbal Spean; commonly known as the valley of a 1000 Lingas, is set in the jungle to the north east of Angkor. It is approached by a steep jungle walk of 1500 metres, passing huge overhanging boulders and continues through the gorge to the river.

We have lunch while en-route through beautiful and unspoiled countryside to the lesser visited, but interesting temple of Banteay Samre which is named after the Samré, an ancient people of Indochina. the temple uses the same materials as the Banteay Srei, but was constructed in the style of Angkor Wat. Our final visit for the day is to the Rolus Group. These temples are set in a stunning location. The Bakong is a highly significant pre Angkorian site; built in the 9th century by King Indravarman I. The temple surrounded by a moat has a five stepped pyramid with a lotus flower tower at its summit. This tower was an addition built in the 12th century, in Angkor Wat style.
